So here I am wondering about her. I don't really know if thats normal. Look for a clue you'll get who. She seems so petty some times but she can be really funny too. She reminds me of some one I used to know a long time ago. Its painful when I think about it. Like a knife just jamming in the back of my head. It stretches and pulls at the gray matter.

The doubt. She talks about him all the time. Hes not real. He can't be real.

Someone asked me if maybe I liked her, I took a moment to think about it. No. Definetly not my type. Shes good looking and she knows it but of course that doesn't stop her from bitching.

The guy shes with...he seems off too, don't know why but he is. He seems nice, I'm sure he is. He doesn't fit though, she still likes the old shoe better.

Honestly I feel so fucking retarded doing this. It seems not natural.

The image is from Warren Ellis. I'm hot linking because...well fuck him thats why.

I heard her voice the other day. It sounds so sweet just like candy falling from the heavens at 102,264 miles an hour and it crushes my heart. I wish she would call. I wish I didn't feel alone but I do. I put too much hope in her. I should really stop doing that. It just leads to disappointment.

I put the sprinkler on right on my window. I like the sound of the rain. It helps me think and I like Brook Benton. Why don't more artists do stuff like this? People say I was born too late, I suppose this is the proof. Everybody on live journal listens to bands with names that were put together while playing scrabble. Arcade Fire, Okkervile River, Goldfrapp, Diplo.

There's hardly any sad soul left. I need some every once in a while.

I wonder how she's feeling now

The only reason I'm actually listening to this song is because she got me into them. I wonder how she's doing. It's going to be 2 weeks this Thursday since I've actually seen anything. I hope she'll come back. I found out she was OK but honestly I'm not patient.

It's officially Tuesday so I need to prep another package. Just a little something to keep her entertained until she decides to return. I figure one a week should keep her amused. A cornucopia of morbidity (Is that even a word? It should be) but hey whatever does it for her.

I didn't want her to feel bad or alone so I got totally hammered and I shaved my stache which I haven't done in what seems like forever.

She gave me something I really like.

it's probably food

It's 1:45 in the a.m. and I just tried I.M. her. She's probably out for food. The time difference is kinda annoying. About as annoying as Cameron Diaz. It's just been a while since I've talked to her, actually it's been a while since I've had a long conversation with just about anyone.

I was reminded of the Hollywood Militia Pilots, I wonder how she would look in 1930's pilot gear. I know she's into old style fashions. There's something about the older generation of women that just makes them seem so much more. I could believe one of those ladies being a pilot. I don't know if she could be. I don't think she knows how to be tough, stubborn maybe, sadistic probably but not selflessly tough. I don't know many people like that anymore.

I had a date tonight

It started out here:

and it ended up here:

Not exactly as I planned the night but hey it was fun. She has good taste in wine. She can dress too. She was telling me about her friend who wants an abortion. Didn't really know what to say to her. Don't have the proper equipment to make that call.

Theres something sexy about a woman playing pool. And smoking. On that topic I know just how dangerous it is, fuck I even quit but theres no denying that it just looks damn sexy sometimes.

The other one still hasn't called. I was hoping to hear from her sooner rather than later. I tried making her laugh last night but I guess not. Not even a reply. I did that trylingually. I'm just wondering if she did that thing she was going to do.

I'm actually at work now. I was trying to finish this before I left home but hey what are laptops for?

I hate Lincoln Park, its like a miniture California. All white pasted and loaded. A fine sedan every where you look. AND NEVER ANY FUCKING PARKING!

Oh and Nietzsche would drive a Mini, and I look like a twelve year old baby hughy retard without my stache and goat.

CorbenFrost: "I just wanted to know if you got that thing checked"
CorbenFrost: "I don't mean to sound like a bitch but can you stop calling me?"
CorbenFrost: "Yeah sure bye"

Its surprising just how much those words can hurt really. Pondering if I should just completely delete this person from life. Wants to be left alone aparently. A person tells you something like that and then they just expect you drop the topic. How do you react when a person tells you that there might be something seriously wrong with them? Back in my day you showed concern. I feel old. I feel alone.

I got called "chatty" this really made me laugh. It was just juxtaposition after that. It was like someone just shot you for being an asshole then getting called a poo poo head.

Well for all its worth I hope you feel better. I hope you don't always have such a bad time. I hope theres nothing wrong with you. I hope he accepts you for who you are instead of what he wants you to be.

I hate California. I hate what it is, I hate what it represents. I hate the subs there. I hate how everything there is so divided. I hate seeing skinny white guys in indie shirts looking like angels without scarred bodies. I hate the weather there. I hate how everybody there is so pretenious and witty. I hate how every new fad comes from this shit hole which has oddly enough the some of the highest standardized test scores and it happens to have one of the highest illiteracy rates in all of America. I hate how every other 20 something year old there reads stuff like "The Lovely Bones" and "Choke" but can't seem to write a decent fucking sentence on myspace.com. I hate how every other asian guy there thinks hes black. You don't live in the fucking hood and you didn't have any of the poverty and strife the black kids growing up in compton do. Tupac wasn't singing to you or about you. Sure you can't do a single days hard labor but you can come up with a ton of funny things to say. You can graduate from art school but you wind up doing the same shit as some other pampered fuck did 4 years before you got to your high priced school that mommy and daddy pay for.

Theres just something about how people in California think. In the 1950s Washington was the heart of America. Now its changed. California has something like 18% of America's total population and it seems to have control over something like 60% of American culture. Every other t.v. show seems to come from there. Beverly Hills, the O.C. hell even Buffy the Vampire Slayer seems to be based there. Why couldn't those hazmat trucks just have gotten through the border? Why couldn't that last earthquake have just split it from America and sunk it?

Enjoy the fall. It will be lonely.

A change of plans.

Still annoyed about yesterday. In retrospect, I'm sure shes never had any one really care about her. Did a bit of research and analysis. Profile is very unstable. Hint taken though. I want to see how many days I can go without IM anyone. Actually I'm half curious to see if anyone would notice.

Hop to Canada was cancelled today. The pills are doing funny things to me. I don't like them. They make me feel like I'm made out of white stuff in the middle of dandelions. Got a package from a friend. Its a manual for a new jet. Show off.

The gun range was fun last night. It always helps. I still think California should be wiped off the face of the world. I've just decided to add Florida to the list too. I say this because I am going to have to go to both very soon. I hate travelling. People think its cool. It is not. Its no fun if your not flying yourself and it just seems to take forever in a 737. Give me an F-4 any day.

Got a job offer. Need to consider the reprecussions of saying either yes or no. Hes not someone to be fucked with. He knows it. He knows I know it. He has the advantage.

I have also been a bit pissed off lately. People are dissappearing. I don't like when this happens. Not a word to anyone, no declarations, no suicide notes, no snappy away message. Nothing. I don't like mysteries. Found out what happened to one, confirmed the other had an illness. Still 2 missing. The first two were surprised to hear from me. I wonder why that is? Hum... I suppose the internet is its own double bladed sword. Its a big ad "Come look at me but don't get to close, you might find out how fucked I really am and then you won't like me and then my family will disown me and then I will be all alone forever." You want someone to witness your life. You want to feel not alone but the second a person connects you rabbit. You want validation. You won't find it from other people. They'll only give it if you give it yourself first. Thats why people make up people on the net. So they can crucify themselves and then feel martyred and heroic. Nietzsche would probably agree. People are ultimately cows. They'll bend to your will and opinion if you really want them to.

Its raining now. I'm listening to a rainy night in georgia, it just seems to go so well right now.

I think my pills just stopped working.

I hated going to weddings. All the grandmas would poke me saying "You're next". They stopped that when I started doing it to them at funerals

I can't figure it out. Maybe its a lack of interest. Maybe shes busy. Maybe she heard about that thing the other day. I don't know which. I hate not knowing it drives me up the fucking wall. I wonder why she only comes around when she wants. Its selfish. I'm pretty sure she knows it too. I don't think she knows this exists, thats good I suppose. Not even a "Hi how are you?" There isn't even an away message. She just doesn't care. I hope hes cheating on her. I hope shes in pain. I hope she goes into withdrawl. Its good to see people in pain. No one admits it but thats really why people like the blues. You get to feel better because you know somebody has it worse. She just always seems like she has it better than anyone like her should have it.
Online time = 1 hour 21 minutes as of finishing this section.

Online time = Less than 1 minute

This one is quite different. This isn't the first time I've pissed her off. Honestly at this point I don't really care. If she wants to be a coward then let her. Let her have her good time. It spreads faster than she knows. I've seen it eat people whole. I would hate to go out like that. I suppose karma does catch up. Shouldn't be a douche bag to people. I'll burn in hell but I've know this for a long time. I just hope she didn't log on and off just because she saw I was online. I would think she wouldn't be that much of a coward. I would hope she thought enough of me to realize that I will respect her wishes.

I haven't been having the same dreams since the other one up and ghosted. I liked the old dreams much better. She was inspirational. I have been having dreams about war. I can't stand them. I was young then. I hated those years. To this day I still can't fully understand those years. I met up with a few people from then in the Mountains. The mountains were still scarred. Like god was popping pimples on mother earth's acne ridden face.

I see the fog. Thats the only thing I see for miles all around just a deep fog and I can hear it all happening. I can hear it but I can't see it. It scares me. My eyes are already fucked. I wake up and I think I'm blind. I hate that. I can hear my pulse speed up when I get that thought.

Teaching captain queer how to make kitchen napalm before I go to work. I don't even know why I'm going in tonight. This is not my line of work. I am not subtle and I don't like the Dutch, hell I just hate the French.

Void if your reading this, just so you know, in a usual mob hit theres a whole lot more blood. I mean a lot a lot. If you want a good idea of how much you should watch something like reservoir dogs. The weapon of choice for most hits, especially in close quarters like restaurants, is usually a shotgun. They're very messy. I don't think you would want more (grape soda or ketchup or whatever it is) on your floor but it adds to the realism. How ironic that adam is the one that gets shot. I really liked the first one though. You should be a crime scene photographer. They get paid decent and free film development and printing.

Twinkie: I don't kow if you have heard of The Bravery but knowing you and your indie ways you probably have. If you haven't then czech them out. Its like the 80's stuff only its a bit faster and people actually seem to like them!

Wow I totally forgot...

I have flowers. Most people don't know I'm an amateur gardner. She says its because I like to maintain balance. I think she may be right. I like flowers. I name them all after friends. These are two of the nicest though. I really like them. I'm some what of a cynic but I planted the white rose there when a friend left. It was very sickly and it looked as if it wasn't going to bloom at all. A few days after my friend came back the rose had a perfect pale bloom, just like my friend. She had bloomed some too. Shes changed a bit but I'm sure thats all for the best.

The yellow and red remind me of her so much. The yellow seems to over take the red as if the red didn't exist at all but it does. Oh yes. It thrives on passion and hate everything that makes life interesting. Its equally beautiful. Oddly enough she doesn't show it most people. I would, shes charismatic enough to get away with it. She is definetly one of the more interesting people out there. A walking antiself. She would do so well in my job. Her horoscope even said so.

Theres another flower which I have yet to post. She had some trouble recently. She rubbed the wrong person the wrong way. She had me to fall back on I suppose. She thanked me for it which was more than I expected. I do not know what to think now.

Its hot as the devils ass crack here. 105 earlier. Feels even hotter now. I hate Chicago summers. I'm so much more of a winter person.

I am random code being poured out of a future box. Well what can you expect really? It just feels as though your not really appreciated. What she said the other day was actually pretty hurtful. I laughed it off with her but it stung. I did that because I cared. I wasn't tricked into it. Some people just aren't meant to be appreciated I guess. Hardly ever says anything nice. Oh well I'll still be here. What else am I going to do? I'm always here.

"Dominion end theme"

This is that one song that you hear in the back of your head every time you want to just dance a little slow with that person you have pictured in your head.

It doesn't matter who you're with, you know that other person is out there. They invade your thoughts at 3 in the morning. You drive to work thinking about what they're doing. You know that person will never take you seriously. You know they don't think about you most of the day, they're probably thinking of that guy they have in their mind at 3 in the morning. But you hope its you, you know its not but you hope any way. I haven't danced in what feels like ages. I would love to do that with you. Like the old song says...

I suppose I should get used to that. Though I miss you right now, I know your not mine, I have no right to expect any of this and yet I do. Its not love if thats what you think. Maybe its like but not love, I enjoy the talking, the mocking, the squirming. Its just felt so different this week. You just have so much. I wonder if you ever read this and think "This is about me"? All you ever do is bounce off me, can't it be a serious conversation about me once?

Nothing feels right. Its quiet, its heavy, its oppressive. Chicago isn't like this. This is unnatural. Chicago is a fire, its always changing forms. In the summer its a low flame and very vaporous, you can't hold on to anything it gives you. In the winter its like smoke, it overpowers your senses and leaves you choking on the sheer volume of chicago. Everything is here.

A few people liked the sun setting through the window image. I wonder if they really knew? That would be so funny.

Lately, everything has been going ok. I'm back to my usual schedule and its working out pretty good. I'm back to talking to all the usual people and a few more. Honestly it feels good to be back in my niche. I'm also doing a lot more analysis which is still my forte.

which include :

Drinking with friends while watching one of the shittiest E3 shows in years and staring at Olivia Munn and I've started doing some none work photography again and I'm really thinking about buying a new digital slr and I've started going up and down Legion Park which spans a few miles and it really is beautiful, especially because a few stencilers have started doing up the walls of the paths.

and my neighbor got into a bad car accident... so I took the time out to share his feelings with the world and I've finally gotten back to gardening

I like to name my flowers after my friends and of course right after I finish gardening this freakish hail storm comes out of nowhere and kills my plants. Maybe i should read be reading into this.

i even took a clip of it

I'm still hoping to get into contact with a few more people before the end of the week though and maybe get rid of my "Movies of questionable content" collection from my computer.

well, for as long as it takes anyway for this bitch to pull her thong out her asshole.

since i can't read/respond to anything on lj lately, and only sporadically am granted posting abilities to my own fucking blog, i figure it might be better to just leave well enough alone rather than frustrate myself with countless failed attempts to refresh.

in the epic words of eric cartman - "you're breaking my balls".

or i guess, in my case, this will have to suffice:

Re: Beautiful.

ex_scarecrow179

2004-11-22 05:32 pm UTC (link) thank you..

the word you're looking for is (elegant) gothic lolita or EGL. when the dresses are more floral and "innocent" (such as colours of baby blue or pink) it's usually referred to as sweet lolita. i like both, depending on my mood.

2004-11-22 06:23 pm UTC (link) Now that is an intriguing photo. Except for the cross... my mind shouted out "Saya!" (from "Blood: The Last Vampire").

It is a wonderfully beguiling photo. Totally bewitching. The dress is exceptional. The pose and expression, wonderful. The model, stirring.

Extraordinary effort. Thank you for sharing.

2004-11-22 07:02 pm UTC (link) blush i'm very complimented. incidentally, i love blood: the last vampire. i didn't care much for the plot but the characters & animation were amazing and..of course, lots of blood. yum. heh.

2004-11-22 07:30 pm UTC (link) You are more than welcome. You deserve the compliment.

I also agree with your opinion of "Blood: The Last Vampire". I did not care much for the storyline or plot. The animation and characters, especially Saya, were fantastic.

Taking the opportunity to, I browse your LJ. In regards to your post on your favorite things... I love the London photo, the sleeping child (which I suspect is you as a child), and the winter scene (especially).

I will definitely try to keep abreast of your continued efforts. :)

2004-11-24 04:59 am UTC (link) Ah. So the photo of the child was not you. My bad. I thought that I saw a resemblance. The nose and the bottom of the lip were not quite right, but I made myself see a similarity. :)

I have added you to my friends list. Thank you for inviting me to. I look forward to your broadening artistic efforts.

Although I do not completely share your ardent love of blood and "lolis", I do appreciate your passion for those subjects. I am a movie buff and have seen more horror movies than the average bear. ;)

You might like a post I recently wrote. It is not filled with gore but it does have some morbid (but naturalistic) elements to it.

ex_scarecrow179

2004-11-24 11:19 am UTC (link) heh..for "lolita complex" and young children, i'm more obsessed with the idea of being a child, child-like, doll-like, etc myself than having any repressed desire to molest one. if it makes any sense, i find the way -other- people sexualize children fascinating though..so hm. i have no idea where my penchant for blood and guts comes from...i think i've always liked it.

i was very amused by your dancing squirrels ^_^

(Reply to this) (Parent) (Thread)

2004-11-24 12:10 pm UTC (link) I am very glad that you were amused by the "twitching dance of the squirrels". I'd rather that I had taken more time writing it... but it was really just a quick flight of fancy. ;)

And yes, it does make sense that you are fascinated with the way some people 'sexualize' children, and that you have a desire to be child-like. I myself do not sustain a sexual inclination toward children.

That is not to say that I do not appreciate a lovely looking younger woman. Nor, that I do not esteem your passion or fixation. You pull it off exquisitely.

My highest compliment to you is that you made me blush. That is indeed a powerful effect. :)

I look forward to continued dialog within our journals. I think we are filling up the "self portrait" tread near breaking.

at present my journal is mostly just that, a personal journal which i don't mind sharing. i don't know if it would be particularly interesting to someone who doesn't know me, but i do sometimes post things about art, politics, philosophy, and religion that go beyond the personal.

once i have moved to new orleans i will be doing a lot with my increased alone time. seeing the works of talented and fascinating people helps motivate and inspire me, even if the work itself is very different than my own. to that end i have a small number of artists who i do not personally know on my friends list. i've been enjoying seeing your work and what interests you.
